Rev. J. R. Harrison and Rev. A. E. Dickinson made an appeal in Lynchburg yesterday for the Glade Spring (Virginia) Institute, and raised $700. Dr. Dickinson returned last evening. To a Dispatch reporter, who asked him about Lynchburg, he said: "The town is going forward and has as good an outlook as any city in the South. It is not mushroom growth, but is sound and solid. I ran up there to beg for our Female Seminary, but it rained all day and we did not have half a chance. I hope to try again some day.'
